

Michael Grinder Presents - Go Visual!: Non-Verbal INSTRUCTIONAL Techniques for Teachers

This training will focus on non-verbal forms of communication teachers can use to increase student retention. School doesn't need to be a private club for visual learners. Let's expand the membership!!

We know which students do well in school - the ones who are visually-oriented. Have you ever asked yourself, "What can we do about the students who are bright enough and yet still can't do 'school'?" This program is for you. During the 3 classes we will reveal the cognitive secrets of the "better students." We will examine the non-verbals that allow more students to operate successfully in school.

Our topics will include:

- How the visual-oriented brain stores information compared to auditory and kinesthetic-oriented thinkers.
- How to design lessons to increase students' success.
- Understanding the differences between daily work and tests; and how to prepare for a test.
- Effective use of non-verbals to increase long-term memory.
- The differences between long-term memory and the ability to pass a test.
- Examining your innate non-verbal style and knowing when to modify.
- How to recognize the differences between different learning styles.

Michael's style is one that uses lots of group involvement, humor and energy. Participants really appreciate the delivery as well as the take-home value of the content of his work. An educator with 17 years of experience as a classroom instructor, Michael Grinder presents accelerated learning and group presentation skills workshops internationally. He uses behavioral modeling techniques and Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP) in business settings and in schools.

This training is appropriate for teachers grades 2-12, including special education.

This class is being offered for free this year only.
Sorry no clock hours or credit available this time.

Class dates: April 13, 20, and 27, 2009 Times: 4-6:30 PM

Location: Marshall Elementary School (Media Center)

6400 MacArthur Blvd, Vancouver

To Register: e-mail Krista Grinder at Kristagrinder@msn.com