

Michael Grinder and Associates

The best non-verbal communication and group dynamics training around!

Want to be more authentic?
AND be seen as confident and credible?
Then an event with Michael Grinder is not to be missed!

Michael walks you and your audience through his ground-breaking communication, group dynamics and influence practices that have allowed thousands to change their lives by changing how others perceive them while staying true to their message.

Michael has spent his life working in both the corporate and educational worlds, teaching effective and systematic non-verbal communication for group settings. He is dedicated to changing the way many people operate from the influence of power, when what they really need is the POWER of INFLUENCE.

Rev up your presentation skills

Enhance group and team dynamics

Effectively manage the boardroom or classroom

Profile individuals to increase motivation and communication

Michael Grinder is THE master and renowned expert in the power of influence through the science of non-verbal communication, charisma and leadership, group dynamics, relationship building and presentation skills.

Experience for yourself
Michael's 40 years of observational research on five continents! Call today to reserve your dates
1-360-687-3238 or email
info@michaelgrinder.com

To learn more about Michael's extraordinary work, get his free reports, and watch interesting videos, visit www.michaelgrinder.com

"I have studied with Michael for 15 years and am convinced that MICHAEL IS the reason my speaking career has been as successful as it is. He is a master at non-verbal communication. Those who have studied with Michael have seen their careers transformed. It is the best investment you will ever make."

Amanda Gore
Keynote Speaker of the Year 2009
and NSA Hall of Fame

ALL WITHOUT SAYING A WORD.

Author of 13 Books including

Here's a sneak peek of what you'll learn from Michael and his breakthrough processes and communication systems.

Popular Workshop Topics

How to Inspire

The average speaker informs, the good speaker persuades, and the GREAT speaker inspires. Learn how your non-verbals affect others and the two most common mistakes of presenting and how to avoid them.

Charisma

Discover the importance of freezing your gesture as you pause. Learn the little-known, yet powerful ways to use your hands, your eye contact, and your non-verbals to increase your credibility, AND most importantly, deliver your most impactful messages without blinking.

Working with Difficult People

We can't always control these individuals, so we must use strategies that encourage them to join. Surprisingly, these people may even be the key to the group functioning well.

How Not to Get Shot

How do we maintain positive relationships during difficult times? Gain seven strategies that will allow you to preserve rapport even when you have to deliver bad news.

Group Dynamics

Which of the four kinds of groups are you dealing with: unformed, formed and functioning, dysfunctional, or healthy? Five proven way to adjust your management style so you can get better results with any and every type of group.

Mentoring

Money is wasted when we hire people for a new position instead of retraining people we already have. Learn the five secrets of successful mentoring.

Practical Stress Management

Stress is the killer of productivity and creativity. Learn key tips and strategies for maintaining a stress-free and productive environment.

"Michael Grinder is an authority in the area of group dynamics. His ability to look at your presentation and then link that to how the audience might receive it is first class. If you get a chance to work with him, don't hesitate."

*Brad Tonini
President of National Speakers
Association of Australia*

"I rate Michael Grinder's program as the most challenging and yet also most practical I have attended. I have learned so much, which I can put into use straight away at both a professional and personal level. Thanks again for your wisdom, your talent and your insight."

*Lindsay Adams
CSP, President,
Global Speakers Federation
and Nevin Award Winner*